Thanksgiving Dinner at ‘More Than Enough’ Food Pantry / Soup Kitchen

November 20, 2011 kicked off the opening of the new soup kitchen on the island with Thanksgiving Dinner — thanks to the new ministry at Crest Community Church and the volunteer efforts of many kind people and of Michael Holmes (the man behind the project) who prepared 15 turkeys. Over 200 people were able to enjoy a wonderful homecooked, Thanksgiving feast.

Worship music was provided by Andy Stone, Mark Vallese, Jamie Cramer, and Andrew Reeves and Dave Landis.

The Soup Kitchen is made possible through donations, and is Open Every Monday from 4:30pm to 6:30pm serving the Wildwoods with the love of Jesus through many of his good and faithful people.

How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying

On January 21st, I had the opportunity to go to New York City with my mom, and a friend, to visit the Al Hirschfeld Theater on Broadway. The show I saw was How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, starring Glee’s Darren Criss as J. Pierrpoint Finch, the plucky window washer turned businessman, and Beau Bridges as J. B. Biggley, President of World Wide Wicket, a big name company in 1960’s New York City.

The show starts with Finch (Criss) being lowered down onto the stage from midair, on a window washing platform. The audience then sees Finch reading a book, in the show narrated by talk show host Anderson Cooper. This book was called How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying. How To Succeed became Finch’s best friend and dearest companion, as he often turns to it for guidance while making his way rather smoothly and quickly up the corporate ladder. Finch eventually stumbles upon World Wide Wicket Company, where he literally bumps into the president of the company, J.B. Biggley (Bridges). Taking the opportunity to chase his dream of becoming a real business man, Finch eagerly tells Mr. Biggley that he would like to apply for a job. Appalled that Finch did not know who he was; Biggley exasperatedly walks away from Finch, setting him up with Personnel Manager, Mr. Bert Bratt (Michael Park). On his way to Mr. Bratt’s office, Finch meets his nemesis, Mr. Biggley’s lazy, nepotistic, arrogant nephew Bud Frump (Christopher J. Hanke). Frump and Finch instantly start to bicker, but Finch is called into Mr. Bratt’s office by his secretary Smitty (Mary Faber). Diving into the future a bit, Finch has become very successful in the company. Finch marries Smitty’s friend Rosemary. The show ends with a big, flashy song-and-dance number titled “Brotherhood of Man.”

How To Succeed in Business was by far my favorite show that I have seen. Not only was the singing and dancing perfectly on point, the show was funny, heartwarming and overall phenomenal. The casting made it even better. Darren Criss, co-founder of the musical theater group Team StarKid, which he started when he was enrolled at Michigan State University in 2009, is one of my all-time favorite actors, my very favorite on Glee, and I felt so privileged that I was able to see him live. Beau Bridges and the rest of the cast were also great. I loved Darren’s performance in the show and can only wish his successor Nick Jonas the best as he closes the show from January 24th to July 1st.

Eileen McGarry of North Wildwood recently traveled to Joplin, Missouri—the site of a devastating tornado that swept through the area in May, 2011. Her motivation for going was extreme, Extreme Makeover Home Edition that is.

In a supposed-to-be 6 hour shift that turned into 24 straight hours at the build site, Eileen moved furniture, gardened, landscaped, painted, cleaned, and made lasting memories in and around the 7 houses under construction. These 7 homes, built in only 7 days, became the havens for 7 families greatly affected by last May’s storm. A recent Master’s level graduate of Sacred Heart University’s Isabelle Farrington School of Education, Eileen was unable to secure a permanent teaching position. She decided to make the best of her year off and use it to travel, explore, adventure, and help as many people as possible. The trip to Joplin was her first of many adventures, later travelling to Indianapolis, Indiana to volunteer at the 2012 Super Bowl. Eileen was seen on ABC TV in January as Extreme Makeover aired their 200th episode.

At The SUN by-the-sea we Love to share the story of "I Met My True Love in Wildwood"... Linda and Sue were roommates at Rider College. Sue lived in Wildwood and persuaded her roommate to come to the shore for the summer in 1963. They worked at the Atlantic Diner on the night shift. The summer cops always came in for coffee after the bars closed. Jim and Linda fell in love that summer. The couples were in each other’s weddings and have been wonderful friends all these years. Jim went on to become a doctor of pulmonary medicine and a professor at UMDNJ. He was presented a basket of “Wildwood Memorabilia” for his birthday.

MAKE NEW FRIENDS, BUT KEEP THE OLD!
Stevie Ballantine & Michael Holmes are good ‘old’ Wildwood friends. “More Than Enough” Soup Kitchen and Food Pantry at Crest Community is not only spreading joy to visitors, but is a chance for all of those who live here to get together and fellowship while serving the community. It is in giving that we truly receive.

On February 12, a benefit was held at the Bolero for Thomas Kane who recently had heart transplant surgery. Tom is a local resident that grew up in Wildwood. Over 300 of his friends and family came out for the event, thanks to strong effort from the committee members who worked diligently to put this event together. The proceeds from the benefit will help Tom defer the cost of his medical expenses. The Kane family would like to thank everyone that helped make this event a great success and they are forever grateful for your help.
